“Helping parents homeschool high school”

Do Not Be Afraid

Homeschooling high school is the best preparation for college and life.

Know Homeschooling Works

A safe and secure place for socialization, developing specialization, and shaping behavior.

Scriptural Assurances

Your child was given to you - Psalm 139:13-16

You know you are capable and can do all things - Philippians 4:13

Love covers any missteps - 1 Peter 4:8

Always Be Prepared

Every child deserves a college-prep education. You never know when their plans may change!

Plan a Rigorous Curriculum

Cover your core classes and go deep in their areas of interest.

Record Keeping

Tubbies, Cubbies, and Binder Queens. Do not be a Question Mark.

Keep things required for state law, things for course descriptions, and things colleges may want to see.

Provide High School Records

Create transcript, reading list, course descriptions, activity and awards lists

Choose Curriculum Wisely

Do what works – use what works – do the next thing!

Invest Resources Wisely

Invest your money and time into your homeschool. Don't forget to invest in yourself!

Lighten your load – share chores and tasks with your family.

Include Delight-directed Learning

Colleges want passion, and delight-directed learning is a great way to develop it in your child.

Know What Colleges Want

Nobody has it all. Your child is an individual.

Be the Guidance Counselor:

Keep your academic calendar and your records organized.

Teach Skills for College:

Note taking, public speaking, essay writing, study skills, and sleep will ensure their success.

Remember what is Important:

The ability to self-teach, strong values and faith, character, and work ethics are the core of what will grow your child from student to adult.

Know Your Goal Each Year:

Middle School: Review or Preview; Freshman: Think About College; Sophomore: Plan for College; Junior: Find a College; Senior: Apply to College

Special Encouragement:

You can homeschool high school successfully in a variety of situations and circumstances!
